The UK Government seeks bids to deliver roundtable discussions between UK and Australian companies to implement the Australia-UK Free Trade Agreement.

insights

Key Features

- The Australia-UK Free Trade Agreement (FTA) offers exceptional provisions for investment, professional services, and financial services.
- The FTA aims to reduce trade and investment barriers, enhance cross-border trade efficiency, and create new opportunities for businesses in various sectors, including banking, insurance, accountancy, auditing, architecture, engineering, and legal.
- The UK government seeks partners to organize roundtable discussions for UK and Australian companies to facilitate the implementation of the FTA.

Key Features

- The roundtable discussions will focus on maximizing the benefits of fully implementing FTA chapters 9, 10, and 13.
- Interested parties are encouraged to consider incorporating market visits, workshops, business engagement, and reporting into their proposals.
